DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after the final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on May 22, 2006 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.
3. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:
 1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
 2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.

3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
 4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.
4. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kayan (U.S. 6,537,289) in view of Miller et al (U.S. 6,709,442).
5. Kayan discloses (see Figs. 15, 15A and 16) a delivery device 50 for delivering a plurality of clip 2 or fastener 2 for occluding a vessel or a tubular structure comprising, among other things, an elongated hollow member 28 having a longitudinal axis; a plurality of clips 2 or fastener, each fastener having a proximal and a distal end, the plurality of clips or fasteners sized to be contained within the hollow member serially with respect to one another along the longitudinal axis; a plunger 58 or an elongate member 58 disposed within the hollow member, the elongate member being positionable along the longitudinal axis between a first position, whereat the elongate member engages the proximal end of the distal-most one of the plurality of fasteners, and a second position whereat the elongate member does not engage the distal-most one of the plurality of fasteners (see col. 11, line 32 to col. 12, line 25). Kayan discloses the invention substantially as claimed except for the piercing member.
6. Miller discloses a fastener delivery system 50 (see Figs. 5A-5F) comprising: a hollow member 51, piercing member 54 for piercing tissue, and plunger 52 for pushing the fastener out of the delivery device (see col. 9, lines 5-65).
7. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made by the applicant to incorporate the needle and fastener as discloses by Miller into the device of Kayman because this will further utilize the device of Kayman by provide a delivery device having capability of piercing the tissue then delivery a plurality of surgical fasteners for the purpose of attaching two or more segments together, e.g., tissue to tissue, prosthesis to tissue, and to occlude a tubular structure such as blood vessel as suggested by Miller (see col. 13, lines 55-60).

Double Patenting

8. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

9. Claim 1 is rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 47 of U.S. Patent No. 6,572,626. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other. Claim 37 (as it encompasses claim 1) of the patent are narrow than the claim 1 of the pending application, therefore, the invention of claims 37 and 47 is in effect a "species" of the generic invention of claim 1 of pending application.
